Sunrise Day Camp-Chicago

Partnership That Transforms Lives

As a corporate Sunrise Day Camp-Chicago partner, you directly impact children facing the challenges of childhood cancer, their siblings, and the families who love them—providing them with the medicine of friendship, community, and childhood joy.

Sunrise Day Camp-Chicago, a program of JCC Chicago, provides a safe, inclusive, medically supported eight-week summer camp—completely free of charge—to children and their families impacted by pediatric cancer.

Together, we create moments of joy, strength, and hope while you advance your corporate social responsibility goals through authentic, local, highly visible impact.

Exelon is proud to partner with the Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation to bring meaningful STEM opportunities to students across the country. With the support of organizations like Sunrise Day Camp-Chicago, we're able to create experiences that not only build critical skills, but also lasting memories for kids in our communities.

Invest in Impact

Through the support of corporate partners like you, Sunrise Day Camp-Chicago ensures children with cancer and their siblings have access to a safe, joyful, and healing environment that fosters emotional wellness, social connection, and resilience.

- $1.3 million – Cost each year to operate Sunrise Day Camp-Chicago and our full year in-hospital program, Sunrise on Wheels. This includes the full summer day camp, onsite nurses, low counselor-camper ratios, 1:1 aides and social workers, program and medical supplies, transportation, food, and year-round programming.
- $7,000 – Cost per camper each year, which families never have to pay.

Sunrise Day Camp Chicago is 100% free for families and fully funded by philanthropy.
